

INSTRUCTIONAL MEMO: Telebehavioral Health During a Declared National Emergency

DATE: March 23, 2020

TO: State, Tribal, and Territorial Counselors and Counseling Professionals

SUBJECT: Medicaid Guidance for Telebehavioral Health During a Declared National Emergency

PURPOSE: The American Counseling Association (ACA) is aware of the confusion our members have encountered regarding new developments in telehealth policy and guidance to jurisdictions. The information provided here seeks to assist the counseling community in communicating with those in your state charged with navigating telework policy and procedure.

Step I: Ask Your Governor for Help

The American Counseling Association encourages you to contact your Governor's office to request an Emergency Declaration for practice using real-time audio-video Telebehavioral health services.

Ask the Governor's Constituent Service Representative:

- I am calling to ask for the Governor to allow for Licensed Professional Mental Health Counselors to practice tele health/tele behavioral health during the state-of-emergency. (Refer to the Medicaid State Plan Guidance below)
- If you have clients residing in border-states, please make them aware of location of your clients and ask them to work with neighboring states to allow for telebehavioral health across state-lines during national emergencies.
